

Homes Safety Policy - Equality Impact Assessment (EIA)

The Equality Act 2010 replaces the previous anti-discrimination laws with a single Act. It simplifies the law, removing inconsistencies and making it easier for people to understand and comply with it. It also strengthens the law in important ways, to help tackle discrimination and equality. The majority of the Act came into force on 1 October 2010.

The public sector Equality Duty came into force on 5 April 2011. The duty ensures that all public bodies play their part in making society fairer by tackling discrimination and providing equality of opportunity for all. It ensures that public bodies consider the needs of all individuals in their day to day work – in shaping policy, delivering services and in relation to their own employees.

The Equality Duty encourages public bodies to understand how different people will be affected by their activities so that policies and services are appropriate and accessible to all and meet different people's needs. By understanding the effect of their activities on different people, and how inclusive public services can support and open up people's opportunities, public bodies are better placed to deliver policies and services that are efficient and effective.

MDH is required by law to have due regard to the need to:

- Eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment, victimisation and any other conduct prohibited under the Act
- Advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it, and
- Foster good relations between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it.

EIA will be carried out by MDH in respect of new or revised policies and a copy of the assessment will be made available. Where it is clear from initial consideration that a policy will not have any effect on equality for any of the protected characteristics, no further analysis or action will be necessary.

The contents of the Homes Safety Policy provides guidance as to how MDH will administer the safety checks required under legislation. This policy does not change any tenancy rights, but sets out MDH’s statutory responsibilities to its tenants.

Consultation with the relevant officers, members and tenants has taken place to ensure the document covers all aspects required of us and meets the needs of MDH and our tenants.

8. From the evidence you have, does the policy affect or have the potential to affect different equality groups in different ways?

All MDH tenants have a tenancy agreement that provides them with the rights outlined in legislation. The policy sets out how MDH will administer its statutory duties in respect of safety in its properties. No communities or groups are affected in an adverse way.

9. Is this policy likely to be equally accessed by all equality groups or communities?

The policy applies to all MDH tenants as all tenants have rights. Some tenancy rights will only be triggered where the tenant’s circumstances dictate.

10. Are there barriers that might make access to the policy difficult for equality groups or communities?

MDH will maximise access for all groups. Where requested, MDH will have the tenancy agreement and policy translated if English is not the tenant’s first language.

Support services are able to attend sign-up to ensure that the tenant understands their rights and responsibilities before signing the tenancy agreement.

11. Could the policy promote or contribute to equality and good relations between different groups?

The policy will ensure a consistent approach is taken when exercising our duties within the current legal and policy framework.

12. What further evidence is needed to understand the impact on equality?

MDH will use existing performance monitoring data to establish whether there has been any negative or positive impact on tenants and their ability to access services.
